

Deathnote :

Kira's Desciple

The world is full of bad people, those who sin, do drugs, lie, cheat, and do very immoral things. Why is it that only the good people have to suffer though this turmoil? What if someone could punish the unrighteous? I think that crime would definately drop and good people wouldn't have to suffer.

"He . . . he . . . he . . ." A mysterious voice blurts out from the corner of the room.

"Who's there?" Asks Fudo Yuko, a twenty year old college student. Fudo is an average looking man whom lives in a medium sized house with his parents and younger sister.

"You Sound a lot like me when I was your age!!" The voice said.

"Please tell me who you are!?"

"My name is Light Yagami, but you might know me better as Kira!!"

You see a few years back there was someone who passed judgement on the immoral and his name was kira, but after a long battle with L (an ace detective) and then another with Nier (L's replacement) kira was defeated and then killed. Although much of the story was not told to the media other than the fact that kira was dead. They never even told us how kira was killing the criminals because they would all just suddenly die of heart attacks without warning.

"Thats impossible!! Ki . . Kira is dead!!" Fudo answered.

"When I died I was unable to go to Heaven nor hell because I used the deathnote in order to rid the world of scum."

"What do you mean?"

"I was given the deathnote by a shinigami named Ryuk and every name of every person I wrote in that note book died. All I needed to know was their name and face. But my work was cut short by Nier and now I want you to continue Kira's goal of a world where criminals shake in fear that they will be next."

"But, even if what you said is true, then how are you here and what do you mean you want me to continue your legacy?"

"You see Ryuk told me that once a human uses the deathnote he can neither go to heaven nor hell but what he didn't mention was that I could become a shinigami like him."

----editor's note a shinigami is translated to be a god of death----

"I recently was given a deathnote of my own and 'found' another one. I think it is about time to give another human the choice to take on the criminals of the human world and cleanse it of sin. I have chosen you Fudo Yuko. You shall be Kira's desciple!"

"You mean to tell me that if I write someone's name in that note book that person shall die?"

"Yes and if you write the cause of death and / or have them do something before they die it will happen as well. So whats it gonna be; yes or no? Keep in mind that in just a few months something bad is going to happen to your family if you do not do this."

"What do you mean, are you threatening my family?"

"No, you see now that I am a shinigami I can see the names and lifespans of any and all humans. This includes your family and they have only a mere couple of months before someone does something very bad to them. But if you use the deathnote you will be able to stop them because I will tell you their names without any charge. So what do you say?"

"No choice really, I kinda have to huh?"

"guess so. Hehe he!!!!"

And this is how our story begins; an ordinary college student, someone he needs to stop, and an ambitious shinigami who wants to become something which no human can claim to be, god.

Chapter 1

Washington DC, USA

"Nier do you think there is another one? I mean it can't be him again right?"

"I think that this one is a different one because if you remember kira died four years ago. I do think that this new one is just as smart though and therefore just as dangerous."

In this conversation Nier a master detective is addressing his secret force of detectives with the matter of a new kira.

"We need to take steps to prevent more killings." Exclaimed one of the detectives, John Michael. "I mean he must be in japan like the original one was right? So lets get a move on and stop this nonsense."

"It's not that simple. As you see in these charts here; most of the criminals dying are actually from right here in the United States. And by this I think that the new kira must be here. Cut off from all the news in Japan and only killing criminals here in America at least for now."

"What are we going to do to start then?"

"I've got a few ideas."

Auburn, Maine

Please believe me I do not believe in the killing of any form. But I do believe that bad people should be punished in some way for what they have done. Do you also think this? I think that many people would agree with what I have just said. You see I believe that they will be punished in the after life and therefore I do not need to punish them because it is not up to a sinner to pass judgement on a sinner. But in this situation I will not think twice about saving my family from an evil person.

Beep Beep Beep

"Time to wake up Fudo!!" Yagami screamed at the sleeping man on the bed.

"It is time to start the second rieg of Kira!!"

"It's freaking 5 in the morning, what are you crazy!"

"Fudo are you ok in there?" Asked his worried mother.

"I am fine mother. Just hate waking up so early in the morning."

Now turn on the news and find some criminals to get rid of. The shinigami instructed his new disciple.

"You are very demanding."

After turning on the news a broadcast which had just started was on:

>>I am N ,

I am a detective whom is researching the recent deaths here in the United States. You see it appears as though we may have a copycat Kira. Please do not be worried by this though because I was the one whom caught the original Kira and I will now catch this one as well! <<

Oh is that right Nier. So you think you can get me again do you?! Ha it is laughable, I am going to be the god of this world and you can not stop me!

>>Kira III just try to get me!! You see he can't because he is just a wanna be. Not even close to being as clever as the original.<<

I am the original. You don't even have a clue do you Nier, that I am back for my revenge. I will not stop until

B-BUMP B-BUMP

>>Sir are you ok? . . . Oh my goodness he's dead!!<<

What the hell? What just happened I didn't even do anything and he died of a heart attack.

>>Oh My! I can't believe that just happened. So it appears that the new kira can kill just by hearing the voice of his next victim!? Hmmmmmm . . . It's definately good that I myself do not make that recording You see I am now using a voice distorter and you can not kill me. I am on to you kira III and you will not get away. I will find you and I will solve this case!<<

This is not going to be a fun ride. Looks like a battle of the minds is about to take place. Nier vs. kira vs. another kira?? A new shinigami power which kira didn't even know about, killing people just by the sound of their voice. This is getting very very scary.
